

UKSC Home Page

The United Kingdom Standing Conference on Health Visitor Education (UKSC) is a body representing all Health Visitor education and training centres in the United Kingdom. It provides a forum for discussion and exchange of information and ideas, bringing together activities and research from the four countries. Our website will provide:

- Information about UKSC and what it does
 - News about meetings, conferences, seminars, workshops and other events on topics related to health visitor education and practice
 - Online resources containing research and other information of interest
- Please contact us for more information.
